CTRL Rail

Features:

Ctrl recognises that people work differently. As a system it encourages these differences by allowing individuals and teams to modify their own workspace as part of their daily workflow. Tool-less user interaction encourages a fluid composition of the objects and interfaces necessary to function effectively and efficiently. Elevating work elements off the desktop de-clutters the physical space and helps focus the mind. It provides a kit of task appropriate tools that allows users to take control of the way they work by removing the inherent restrictions of traditional workspaces.
